This summer is all about you!

Week 3

Purpose in your Singleness

In your own time, take a moment to read the following scripture selection and then highlight what stands out to you.

Consider: What are you passionate about or burdened for?

What do you believe is God's purpose for your singleness?

When this chapter of your life ends, what will you say you've done or accomplished personally and for God?

Our single season has a purpose. Despite what some say, singleness is not a waiting room, idly looking around or staring aimlessly at the clock, hoping for God to call our name through some golden door that leads to whatever we think marriage looks like, or whatever it is we may be waiting for.

There is a profound and diverse purpose in our singleness. It's also person and custom-made for your journey, which is why many believers encourage singles in particular to do what Jesus says in Matthew 6:33:

33 Seek the Kingdom of God<sup>[a]</sup> above all else, and live righteously, and he will give you everything you need.

Consider:

When you have gone to God first or sought Him on something first, what did you benefit?

We were created on purpose and for a purpose, and that includes this time of our lives. God may just surprise you and have you pivot from a path you thought you'd be on for a long time, or spark a new desire within to do something new. Whatever that is, if God gave it to you, it's for your good and His glory. Ephesians 2:8-10 says:

<sup>8</sup> God saved you by his grace when you believed. And you can't take credit for this; it is a gift from God. <sup>9</sup> Salvation is not a reward for the good things we have done, so none of us can boast about it. <sup>10</sup> For we are God's masterpiece. He has created us anew in Christ Jesus, so we can do the good things he planned for us long ago.

Consider:

What good things has God planned for you and through you far in your walk with Him?
